Noticias	2	Recientemente España ha sido premiada con el premio "Franklin D. Roosevelt International Disability Rights", la mayor distinción que puede recibir un Estado en el ámbito de la discapacidad, en reconocimiento a sus avances en políticas de inclusión de las personas con discapacidad. En estos avances también han jugado un papel fundamental las estadísticas que recogen y analizan la información de este colectivo. En las siguientes páginas trataremos de efectuar un repaso de las más relevantes.
Entrevista a Ignacio Tremiño Gómez	4	Entrevistamos a Ignacio Tremiño , Director General de Políticas de Apoyo a la Discapacidad, sobre el papel que juega la información y las estadísticas en las políticas de apoyo a la discapacidad y de qué problemáticas adolece.
Luis de Andrés Ramos	7	En primer lugar, analizamos las estadísticas producidas por el Instituto Nacional de Estadística. En concreto, el artículo de Luis de Andrés Ramos trata la evolución de las estadísticas de discapacidad en las últimas tres décadas y el de Amelia Fresneda y Marina Pérez analiza las estadísticas sobre empleo y salarios de las personas con discapacidad que ha desarrollado el INE utilizando conjuntamente encuestas y registros administrativos.
Evolución en las estadísticas de discapacidad
Amelia Fresneda Pacheco y Marina Pérez Julián	11	También entrevistamos en este número a Miguel Carballada , Presidente de la ONCE y su Fundación, que nos explica el papel de su organización en la sociedad.
Información sobre discapacidad y mercado laboral a través de la integración de registros administrativos y encuestas
Entrevista a Miguel Carballada Piñeiro	16	El artículo de Eduardo Díaz , del Real Patronato sobre Discapacidad, versará sobre la Red Española de Información y Documentación sobre Discapacidad (REDID) y Agustín Huete hace un repaso de la información disponible en las fuentes oficiales sobre discapacidad. A continuación, Vicente Marbán escribe una breve reseña sobre el estudio "El sector de la discapacidad: realidad, necesidades y retos futuros" escrito recientemente por un grupo de expertos. Sobre la necesidad de contar con información estadística sobre la discapacidad versa el artículo de Sabina Lobato . Por último, José Miguel Rodríguez-Pardo explica la utilidad de las estadísticas sobre discapacidad en el sector asegurador.
